

KAY Klips October, 2008

Bushton-Quivira Heights Club promoted the KAY 2008-09 theme by dividing into teams by class & each team was given fishing lines to hook letters together to spell the word "Leadership". Contest winners were the seniors, with the junior second, sophomore third and freshman fourth. The winners were awarded prizes of brownies and cookies made by the officers. Projects for the school year include school, community, national & world service and also will be hosting a Unit Conference in January.

Maize Middle School KAY Club is working to help the student body have a more positive impact on the community. The club's goal is to get involved in the community & make a difference for people in need. The club have been busy with activities including Trick or Treating for UNICEF where they collected funds instead of candy & these funds will be dedicated to ending fatal diseases in third-world countries and natural disaster areas like New Orleans. The club also hosted a charity hat day where the students paid a dollar to wear their hat for a day. All the proceeds also went to support UNICEF. They ran a booth in the PTO Fall Festival & helped raise around $200 for the PTO. The club is looking forward to a great year with many more projects planned.

Montezuma-South Gray members visited the residents at the Bethel Home and assisted some in making fall flower arrangements for the dining room tables. Everyone enjoyed popcorn & apple cider after the activity. The club also went trick or treating for canned goods & will also be collecting at the home football game. The non-perishable food items will be donated to the Gray County Food Bank.

Strong City-Chase County Middle School Club hosted a Pumpkin Day for the seventh & eighth graders. Activities included making "Thank You" cards for the troops which will be included with items that will be sent to them. Other fun activities included seed spitting, mummy wrap, reverse apple bobbing, dress the scarecrow, pumpkin bowling, pumpkin carving and food contests. The staff & fifth & sixth graders participated in the pumpkin carving & decorating & food contests. Everyone reported to have a blast!
