

NASC 2010

"START THE ENGINES OF LEADERSHIP"

The National Association of Student Councils with Center Grove High School in Indianapolis, IN and the Indiana Association of Student Councils will hold the 74th NASC National Conference June 26-29, 2010.

Since 1931, the NASC has fostered the goal of helping young men and women from around the globe become strong and effective leaders now and for the future. NASC has helped nurture and foster the idea of responsibility, integrity and leadership in thousands of young people. Center Grove High School is proud to host fifteen hundred of the world's best and brightest student council leaders.

The Indianapolis community will open their hearts to the student delegates during the conference with special activities. Through conference workshops, activities and general sessions, Center Grove High School will prepare the participants for their ultimate life long role: to lead this nation forward and create a better world in which to live.

Center Grove High School welcomes the world to its doorstep in 2009 and they have a great deal planned for both students and advisors. So meet them a mile-high in Indianapolis, IN this June and Start the Engines of Leadership!
